Abetter Case Management

Your digital case file for forensic investigations

Expert module of
Abetter Forensic Solution

The organizational talent in the demanding daily laboratory routine

Abetter Case Management is your digital case file. With it, you compile and track all case data conveniently and across departments: From the recording of crime events, to the management of evidence objects and case-related exchange till the final documentation.

Import and manage data easily
Optimize your processes with Abetter Case Management and benefit from the interfaces to other case management systems: You can transfer relevant data automatically if required. Import images and documents related to a crime, application, evidence object or order. NIST files can also be deposited on persons involved in the crime. In addition, you can conveniently edit Office documents directly in the software.

Your digital desk
Organizing made easy: You will find your open cases in the Inbox. And for optimal work, you can design the digital workplace yourself according to your needs. For example, move windows to additional monitors so you don't lose sight of anything.

With the Navigator, you can keep track of an offense and its current processing status. Unnecessary information can be hidden and columns can be moved.

Your notes find a place on the notepad and the comprehensive search functionality brings you quickly and efficiently to your goal at any time.

Effective case-related exchange
Abetter Case Management simplifies case-related information exchange. Internal as well as external clerks can be informed directly about the processing status at any time. You can send files directly with Outlook. Without any programming knowledge, fields can be configured according to requirements and specific departments. You can then use these to document the results of the examination or, for example, for a more detailed description.

Quality and reliability
Data security, documentation and seamless audit trails are essential for your work with crime evidence. Personal data can be anonymized for individual users or entire departments. In addition, the software is successfully used in accredited police laboratories and criminal investigation departments and is oriented towards the requirements of Police 2020 and the IMP.
